

THE MCDONNELL GROUP WINS TOP AWARD FOR REGIONAL “BEST SPECIALTY CONSTRUCTION PROJECT OF 2010,” ADVANCES TO NATIONAL FINALS

The Cryogenic Control Center and Safe Haven for LOX/LH2 Barges – Stennis Space Center nabbed Regional Best Specialty Construction Project of 2010 honors from McGraw-Hill’s South Central Construction magazine. The competition recognizes construction and design excellence from the past year. All “Best in Category” and “Best Overall” regional winners advance to McGraw-Hill Construction’s National Awards Competition. The regional winners will be honored at a luncheon on December 9th, in Memphis, TN and their projects will also be featured in the December issue of South Central Construction. The McDonnell Group also received an “Award of Merit” for Metairie Country Club Additions and Alterations.

Projects were judged on criteria including project summary data, teamwork and project management, safety, innovation, contribution to the community or industry, overcoming difficult challenges, construction quality & craftsmanship, and function & aesthetic quality of the design. The McDonnell team members on the Cryogenic Control Center and Safe Haven for LOX/LH2 Barges included: Andrew Silva, Project Manager; Todd Pierce, Project Superintendent; Jeffrey Proctor, Project Engineer; Tony Montalbano, VP of Field Operations; Jason Zuckerman, Director of Project Management; Kris Post, Administrative Assistant. Team members on the Metairie Country Club Additions and Alterations included: Grayson Bultman, Project Manager; Joe Montalbano, Project Superintendent; Larry Larme, Project Superintendent; Brian Reames, Project Foreman; Troy Landry, Project Engineer; Tony Montalbano, VP of Field Operations; David McDonnell, VP of Estimating; Jason Zuckerman, Director of Project Management; Kris Post, Administrative Assistant.
